

Sikh Prayer

God is the True Creator and my Master

God is the True Creator and my Master.

Whatever pleases You comes to happen, what You give I get.

All are Yours and meditate on You.

He, upon whom You shower Your mercy, obtains the Jewel of the name.

You Yourself separate and Yourself unite.

You are the ocean and all are contained in You.

There is none else except You.

All the living beings are Your play-things.

The union of the separated ones is the result of good fortune.

They, to whom You give Your understanding, understand You.

They then always utter God's praises.

They who serve (worship) God, obtain peace.

They are united in the Name easily.

You are the Doer; everything is done by You.

There is no parallel of Yours.

You create, behold and understand this creation of yours.

You bless us in disaster and destruction

God is the True Creator and my Master.
